Wheeling, Dec. 30, 1819.

REFERENCES.

The subscribers were appointed trustees of a Seminary for the education of Young Ladies, at the village of Harmonie, Butler county, Pennsylvania, which has been under the superintendance of Mr. Frederick Eckstein, assisted by Mrs. Eckstein for about two years. They have occasionally attended the public examinations of the pupils in Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Grammar, History, Geography, Natural Philosophy, the French Language, and Drawing in all its branches. Mr. Eckstein intending shortly to remove from Harmonie, with the intention of being employed in the education of youth, wherever he can be useful, and can receive suitable patronage. The subscribers have no hesitation in testifying their approbation of his merits a teacher, from the progress of the Young Ladies at Harmonie, in the various branches above mentioned. The strictest attention appears to have been shown by him to their morals & manners, which was evidenced by the decorum and behaviour of the young ladies under his care. 11th Aug. 1819.

JOSEPH ARMORER,

Pittsburgh, December 28.

To Rent or Sell,

A BREWERY, pleasantly situated on the bank of the Ohio river in the town of Gallipolis, county of Gallia and state of Ohio.

This Brewery is in complete operation, and has all the necessary buildings &c. adjoining the same, such as malt-house, kiln, pump &c. There is a piece of woodland attached to the property, where timber and firewood can be obtained in any quantity, for the use of the brewery. Barley can also be had on reasonable terms from the farmers in the neighbourhood, who now attend pretty largely to the cultivation thereof.

This brewery is in a fine situation for business—4 miles below the mouth of the Great Kenhawa, on which river any quantity of malt liquors can be sold for the consumption of the Salt works.

The buildings and pump are calculated for the establishment of a Distillery, which would be of great advantage in Gallipolis where there is none.

Terms will be made easy and accommodting. For further particulars, apply to

PETER MAGNIER.

WESTERN HOTEL,

No. 228 MARKET STREET,

Sign of General Washington.

THE subscriber begs leave to inform his friends and the public, that he has taken that well known establishment in Market street, next door to the Pittsburgh Mail Stage Office, and lately occupied by Mr. George Yohe. To those who have been accustomed to resort to this house, it is unnecessary to point out its superior advantages. For the information of others we deem it necessary to state that its situation is central, high, healthy and convenient to business; an extensive range of back buildings, consisting of lodging rooms, afford a fine view of the city to the eastward, and admit a free and uninterrupted circulation of air—and what will give them a decided preference in the opinion of many, is the attachment thereto of balconies, so constructed as not only to afford pleasant promenades, but easy means of escape in the event of any necessity from any sudden alarm of fire. The great Western Stages start every morning from the door, and on the premises is one of the best Livery Stables in the city, conducted by Mr. John Tomlinson, where travellers' horses will be faithfully attended to. With these advantages, and some other improvements now making added to his own unremitted exertions to please, the subscriber confidently hopes for, and very respectfully solicits a share of public patronage.

A Most Valuable Estate

FOR SALE.

THAT beautiful estate, commonly known by the name of MONTOURS' or LONG ISLAND, about five miles below Pittsburgh, in the Ohio river, containing in the whole 1,000 acres, is offered for sale. It is divided into three separate tracts, on each of which there are handsome improvements; the land is of the best quality, well timbered, and not subject to overflow. It is universally esteemed, both as to soil and situation, the finest property in the western country. The proprietors would prefer selling the whole in a body, but to suit purchasers, it may be divided into three tracts.

The terms may be known by applying to Major Isaac Craig on the premises, or to the subscriber, who is agent for the proprietors, at his office in Pittsburgh.

JAMES HALL,
Attorney at Law

To Emigrants.

HAVING associated myself with a considerable company for the purpose of settling a new place in the state of Illinois, opposite the mouth of White river and Palaka, at the foot of the Grand Rapids of the Wabash, (MOUNT CARMEL) with an intention to remove to it, as soon as practicable, I have contracted for the making and burning of 150,000 brick, which I wish put up next season into buildings, and the Bricklayer's and carpenter's work undertaken conjointly, the plaistering and whitewashing included. Lands adjoining the Town, and town lots, at cash prices, and cash, a proportion of each will be given in payment when the work is completed.

Having entered lands for the accommodation of settlers favourable to the views of the settlement, a considerable body adjoining the settlement and town lands, divided into lots of from 10 to 100 and 160 acres each may be had at the Congress prices, with the exception of the interest on the money paid, and a small advance to defray expences, &c.

I wish to employ some persons to enclose or clear lands for me, for which I will pay in lands at cash prices. I have a body of open and timbered lands, that I would lease from 5 to 10 years on advantageous terms to emigrants unable to purchase. A convenient farm to let, by an early application to the Agent may be had.

A canal for boats and water works around the Grand Rapids of the Wabash, a company is forming to commence opening next season, that will afford employment for labourers, and no inconsiderable inducement to capitalist to invest their funds in the establishment. Considerable encouragement and aid have already been tendered for that purpose by emigrants from the Eastern States. The river is open for navigation from this place to New-Orleans all the year.

Application may be made to WM. BEAUCHAMP, the Agent for the establishment, residing in Mount Carmel, or to the subscriber, residing at present in New-port. None need apply but moral characters.

TUESDAY MORNING, JAN. 18, 1820.

THE DEVIL'S JAUNT,

The Devil 'tis said, from his brimstone bed,
One morning got up full of mirth, Sir,
And hasten'd away, to the regions of day,
Resolved to play hell upon earth, Sir.

A sober young lad, who more beard than brains had,
Was the first soul he met in his journey,
And a curse to affix, on mankind in his tricks,
He made Hodge in a trice an Attorney.

He saw a young bride, with her groom by her side,
On whose arm she most lovingly swung, Sir,
So, to let the young lover, her value discover,
He taught her the use of her tongue, Sir

An ill favor'd fop, with a nicely curled crop,
Weak nerves and a bad disposition,
He saw, and in haste, lest such talents should waste,
He made him, ye Gods, a physician!

A group of old maids, at their nocturnal trade,
Were employ'd round the snuff of a candle,
But the Devil dar'd not, interfere with their plot
Lest his name should be brought into scandal.

In a garden Nick saw, a young limb of the law,
Plucking sprigs for a sprightly young madam;
And the Devil laugh'd loud, as the spruce fop bow'd,
For he thought of the downfal of Adam.

Old Scratch then went down, to a sea-port town,
To catch the Sea Serpent and bind him;
But he came back here, with a flea in his ear,
For the Devil himself could'nt find him.

By the high road side, some people he spied,
Close whisp'ring and drinking and leering,
And he squeez'd among, the motly throng,
To hear their electioneering.

To continue the sport, he went up to court,
To search out his playmates and cronies,
And was quite over joy'd, to find them employ'd
Making treaties of peace with Don Onis.

So Cloven-foot then, thought he'd go home again,
For there was no room to do evil;
As the Spaniard at trick, could match Old Nick,
And the Yankee could beat e'en the Devil,

FLORIDA.

The following is an extract of a letter from a gentleman who visited Florida about the period that the Spanish treaty was made.

"From Mobile, I bent my course into Florida and traversed on foot that sterile region, accompanied by my friend thro' a 'wide waste,' where no white man had ever pitched his tent. Whenever night came on and fatigue had urged us to rest, our mother earth afforded us a grateful bed on whose lap we rested our wearied limbs, reposing our heads on some friendly log. Although the woods teemed with wolves and panthers, those reputed enemies of mankind, yet we laid ourselves down fearlessly on the ground, and enjoyed such delectable comfort in our rest, as the pampered voluptuary never experienced on his downy bed

The general character of both East & west Florida is that of sterility, although there are many very fine tracts of bottom and alluvial land bordering on most of the rivers and creeks, capable of yielding both sugar and cotton, the most valuable productions of the U. States.

The common pitch pine (pinus rigida) is the 'lord of the forest,' and its sole dominion is acknowledged throughout the whole of that country, except in the low land and marshy grounds, where the live oak and cyprus claim an asylum. None of those extensive savannas, which spread over so large a portion of the western states, and which astonish the wandering traveller and confound the admiring and cause-searching philosopher, are here to be seen. The whole of the highland country presents an insipid sameness of a sterile plain covered with pine trees of a small size, scattered at an average distance of 30 feet from each other, without any underbrush and almost without any vegetable, save that of some wild grass intervening. The bottom lands are generally rich, capable of producing any of the vegetable kingdom congenial to this climate. This description of land is only to be found on the margin of rivers and creeks, and is usually from a fourth to a half a mile in width. The rivers on which the best land is to be found are the Escambia, Chatahoochie, Octahachie, Chactawhachie, Appalachicola, Confena and St. Johns.

To the botanist and mineralogist, this is an extremely interesting tract of country.—Quartz sand prevails through the whole upland country. One remarkable phenomenon however, is worthy of notice. Fragments of volcanic lava, I found scattered all over west Florida; and no one there could give any account or conjecture concerning the same, and as it seems quite improbable, that it could have been thrown from any volcano, known at the present time, I must leave the investigation of this to the fanciful genius of some future traveller."

The removal of G. A. Worth, Esq. from the office of Cashier of the Branch Bank of the United States at Cincinati, has led to the following proceedings of the Directors:—

Office of the Bank of the United States
CINCINNATI, Nov. 9.

The Board met this evening agreeably to adjournment.

Present—Jacob Burnet, President, James Findlay, Andrew Mack, James Keys, Thomas Sloo, Daniel Drake, Hugh Glenn, Martin Baum, William M. Worthington, and William Piatt.

Absent—John H. Piatt, J. Perry, William H. Harrison, resigned.

The committee to whom was referred the subject of the supposed removal of the Cashier, offered the following report, which was unanimously adopted.

Whereas, it appeared to the Board of Directors, from a series of letters received from the Bank of the United States, during the last three weeks, directed to Abm G. Claypoole, as cashier of this office, that G. A. Worth, the present cashier is about to be removed, and that the measure is probably predicated on unofficial communications, tending to implicate his conduct; the Board feel themselves bound in justice to Mr. Worth, and from a sense of duty to the institution, to declare that his management of this office has evinced a degree of talent, integrity and zeal, that entitles him to their unqualified confidence: that his attention to the duties of his office has been unremitted—that his arrangements have been judicious, and dictated exclusively by an ardent desire to promote the best interests of the Bank, and that they cannot but view his removal as an unfortunate measure, originating in misrepresentation, and calculated very seriously to injure the Institution.

Therefore, Resolved, That the President be instructed to forward this declaration to the President of the Bank of the United States, as containing the unanimous sentiment of the Members of this Board.

Extract from the minutes.

SALMON RIVER, (Lines.) Nov. 26.

The people of this vicinity have been, during the last three weeks, very much alarmed by repeated shocks of earthquakes, some of them so heavy as to shake violently the houses, startle the inhabitants from their sleep, rattle stoves and other articles of furniture, and even to raise a surf in the river, when the air was perfectly calm. You may be assured that this account is unexaggerated. There have been upwards of forty shocks since the dark Tuesday; some of them accompanied with a noise as loud as that caused by the discharge of a twenty four pounder fired at the distance of a mile, others were attended by a rumbling sound resembling that produced by the finger on a tambourine. The last shock was experienced at ten o'clock last night, and was pretty severe. Some are so alarmed that they are with difficulty, persuaded to go to bed, others go to bed with their clothes on, and their cash in their pockets, fearing what may happen in the night.—Hoping the worst is over.

EXECUTION OF GODFREY.

Extract of a letter dated Dec. 18, from a gentleman in Buffalo to his brother in the city of New-York.

About a fortnight since, our village witnessed a melancholy spectacle—the execution of poor Godfrey for the murder of a fellow soldier.

On the morning of his execution he was escorted to the court house, where a discourse was delivered from Jeremiah 20 chap. last verse.

The subject was chosen by him the night previous. He appeared deeply affected at the mournful prospect of an ignominious death, and after hearing the discourse, joining in prayer and praise to that God, before whom he was shortly to appear, he addressed the spectators, (who were very numerous and who had come from all quarters of the country) in a very impressive manner, conjured them to hear and remember his dying words; to take warning from his mournful fate, and to secure an interest in the Saviour of sinners, while yet he would be found. He read in a clear and distinct voice, the 51st Psalm—and requested the spectators to join him in the following Psalm and Hymn.

"Show pity Lord, oh Lord forgive,"
And,
"Hark from the tombs a doleful sound."

Which he sung with much composure. He protested not only there, but also at the gallows, that he did not intend to murder—and expressed a firm belief that he had secured his pardon, from an offended Saviour; declared that he would meet death on the gallows, with the same composure that he would in his bed. He took an affectionate and mournful leave of us; and marched to the gallows with a firm and steady step. He did not shed a tear, or betray a weak emotion, and met his fate with the greatest possible serenity and resignation. Never have I witnessed such a melancholy scene. I did not attend him to the place of execution, but performed the mournful duty he enjoined on us of offering up in his behalf, in a silent, though sincere prayer, that in the few moments he had to live he might experience a Divine ray of hope, and a kind assurance of pardon and acceptance From my window I beheld him mount the gallow, which he did with a chearful step. There he addressed the multitude, recommended himself to his God, and was launched into eternity.——Poor Godfrey! methinks I still hear his dying words. He was only 25 years of age. I trust that we shall not be compelled to witness such a scene again

VOLUNTARY DEATH BY HUNGER.

From the Quarterly Journal of Foreign Medicine and Surgery.

Professor Huffland, in a late number of his Journal, gives a most extraordinary case of a trader, who impelled by a succession of misfortunes, and absolutely destitute of the means of procuring food, retired to a sequestered spot in a forest, and there resolved to starve himself to death He put his determination in force on the 15th of September, and was found on the 3d of October, (eighteen days) still living although speechless, insensible and reduced to the last stage of debility. A small quantity of liquid was given him, after which he expired. By his side was found a pocket book and pencil, with which he had contrived to keep a daily journal of his state and sufferings, and in which he had persevered till the 29th September. He begins by giving an account of himself, and states that he was a respectable tradesman possessing good property, of which he had been deprived by misfortune and villany, and that he come to the determination of starving himself to death, not so much with the view of committing suicide, as because he was unable to procure work; that he had in vain offered himself as a soldier; and was too proud to apply to unfeeling relations. This note is dated on the 10th, which day he had employed in constructing a little hut of bushes and leaves. On the 17th, he complains of suffering much from cold, and, in his Journal of the 18th, he mentions having suffered much from untolerable thirst, to appease which, he had licked the dew from the surrounding vegetables. On the 20th, he found a small piece of coin, and with great difficulty reached an inn, where he purchased a bottle of beer. The beer failed, however, to quench his thirst, and his strength was so reduced, that he took three hours to accomplish the distance, about 2 miles. On the 22d, he discovered a spring of water, but though tormented with thirst, the agony which the cold water produced on the stomach excited vomitting and convulsions. The 23d made ten days since he had taken any food but beer and a little water. During that time he had not slept at all. On the 26th, he complains of his feet being dead and of being distracted by thirst; he was too weak to crawl to the spring, and yet dreadfully susceptible of suffering. The 29th of September was the last day on which any memorandum was made. We regret that no dissection was made.

THE SEA SERPENT.

The Gazette de France contains an extract of a letter from a Dutch merchant, who recently went to America, 'giving some account of the famous Sea Serpent which has appeared on the shores of the United States.' He says,

'We were sailing with a light wind, the land being about six miles distant, when all at once we felt a shock which made us think we had struck upon a rock. We however were soon undeceived by seeing above the waves, the head of the greatest monster I ever beheld. He raised himself about fifteen feet over the surface of the water, and coming towards us, he glided across the stern of the vessel in such a manner as almost upset us. A cabin-boy, who was near the bowsprit was overwhelmed by the enormous mass. A sailor then advanced courageously and fired at the Serpent with a carbine, but the ball rebounded from his scales, & appeared not to make the least impression on him. The animal turning quickly, seized the sailor round the middle, and plunged with him under water! Our tackle was broken, and our bowsprit almost unshipped. While we were occupied in repairing the damage we had sustained, we again saw the monster laying on the surface of the water, but we saw our unfortunate sailor no more'

This is the most miraculous of all the accounts we have had of the Monster of the Deep.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.

Yesterday, a cable intended for the Columbus seventy-four, manufactured by messrs. Winslow, Lewis & Co. in the patent manner, was carried on the shoulders of about 300 men, from Mr. Howe's rope walk to the Long wharf, to be shipped for its destination. It is 24 inches in circumference, 120 fathoms in length, and contained 4250 yarns. Captain Lewis has contracted for four cables, two of which (one of 100 and one of 120 fathoms) he has already manufactured. We understand that it took just one hour to lay up the cable of 120 fathoms, and 45 minutes to lay up the one of 100 The workmanship is highly spoken of.

Alexandria, (Lou.) Nov. 6.

Report states that for want of an efficient force of U. States troops stationed at Natchitoches, a detachment of Spanish troops is ordered on to take possession of that post, in order to prevent the further incursion of our citizens in their territory From this it would appear that intend to retaliate for our taking possession of East Florida on a similar occasion.

Natchitoches is a town of Louisiana standing upon the west bank of Red River, at north lat. 31 deg. 16 min. This place is distant from the Sabine river by the road 43 miles, and from Nacogdoches in Texas about 120 miles. In 1806 a Spanish army of 900 men crossed the Sabine and penetrated to the Adayes, nine miles west of Natchitoches. In 1811, another body of Spaniards crossed the Sabine, in pursuit of some of the inhabitants of Texas who had revolted; this force reached the settlements of Bayou Pierre, 40 miles north west of Natchitoches, retook a large sum of money and a number of mules; the men, amongst whom was the noted Bernardo, escaped to Natchitoches.

There is no force in that quarter to prevent a predatory body of cavalry from scouring the whole of Louisiana west of Red and Atchalalaya rivers. A fine pine ridge road reaches from Natchitoches, to the Prairies of Opelousas, and from thence through the heart of the settlements to the mouth of Teche river.

SAVANNAH, Dec. 29.

Military Movement.—We have seen a letter from an officer in command at Trader's Hill near St. Mary's, who states that orders have been received from head quarters, for all the U. States troops in that quarter to proceed, forthwith to Fort Scott. This movement we presume, is intended to be in readiness to occupy Pensacola as soon as Congress give the word. There are we understand, between seven and eight hundred men at Trader's Hill.

Mrs. Morris, the lady of Major Morris who lately descended in a diving bell, at Plymouth, (Eng.) whilst under water, wrote a long letter to her father, which concluded with the following lines:

From a BELLE, my dear father, you have oft had a line,
But not from a BELL under water;
Just now I can only assure you I'm thine—
Your DIVING affectionate daughter.

ANECDOTE.

A traveller having put up at a country tavern, where a number of the neighbouring farmers had collected, and hearing them tell several 'tough stories' about their cattle, sheep, &c. begged leave to offer a story. A neighbour of his, having a sickly sheep, turned him out to pasture with perfect indiffence; brought him in at the fall, fed him attentively for a while—and how much tallow do you think the sheep had?' 'Ten pounds,' says one, 'fourteen,' says another; 'Twenty,' says a third; till they all became very impatient to know the weight of tallow in the extraordinary sheep, when one asked, 'How much tallow did he have?' 'I don't know, (replied the stranger,) I guess not much!'

Joseph Bradin, alias Bruce,

Lately of this city, borrowed from me in November last a File of the INDEPENDENT BALANCE; he has since eloped from this place, taking with him the File, and (as I am informed) sold it to a gentleman in Steubenville, on his passage down the Ohio.

The said Bradin or Bruce, is about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, slender made and of a dark complexion; he is very fond of the stage, and is now performing, in company with some others in the western country.

It is hoped that this notice will put persons on their guard, who may have any dealings with him in future.

Extract of a letter from Thomas Sergeant, Attorney General, of Philadelphia, to Morgan Neville, Esq. dated,

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.

SIR—I have this day written to your Mayor and Recorder giving them the particulars of the arrest and imprisonment here of Joseph Pluymart, who was charged as concerned with Emmons, in robbing your Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank, and stealing, &c. He was fully identified, especially by Dr. Lewis of your city, who knows him well Judge Duncan before whom a Habeas Corpus was returned with a view to his discharge, remanded him for a further hearing on the first of February, to give an opportunity to write to your quarter. He has fixed the bail at 5000 dollars. I wish to know what measures you will propose with regard to him, as soon as possible. I believe he will leave no effort unemployed to get released '

Very Respectfully,
Your ob't serv't
THOMAS SERGEANT.

In these times of dullness and embarrassment, such a treat as was offered by Mr. Garner a few evenings since, was truly delightful. This gentleman's powers of voice are very great, his tones are particularly sweet, and he displays considerable science. We have not understood whether he means to give a second entertainment before he leaves town or not, but we think from the satisfaction that was expressed on the last occasion, and from the amiable character which this young stranger bears, that a repetition would be attended with some profit to himself, as well as amusement to the town. In the event of a second concert being given, we will suggest the policy of selecting some songs which do not exhibit much science, for, however a few amateurs may be delighted with their execution, simplicity ought to be consulted when the taste of the whole community is to be gratified. We candidly acknowledge that we were highly pleased, when Mr. Garner's voice displayed its fullest powers; but at the same time we discovered that a style where there was less of the 'metaphysics of music' would have been more generally pleasing. Mr. Garner's voice in our opinion is admirably adopted to many of the native melodies of Moore, and we would recommend a selection of this kind on a future occasion.

PETITIONS.

Mr. Brackenridge, complaining of the misapplication of funds of the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh transporting company, and praying for a law to compel the collection of debts and stock of the company, and for an inquiry into the concerns of the company. To Brackenridge, Porter, Hays

Mr. Noble, aid to the different turnpike companies on the western turnpike, southern route: for a reducion of the number of managers of the Bedford and Stoystown turnpike. Mr. Patrick, aid to the Milford and Owego turnpike: Mr. Wilkins, aid to improve the navigation of the Ohio: Mr. Cummin, aid to improve the navigation of Tuscarora creek; which were referred to the committee on roads, &c.

Mr. Trevor for a law compelling creditors to take estates at the appraisment, or to stay execution; and to prevent imprisonment for debt: Mr. Cummins, from Mifflin county on the foregoing subject, except as to imprisonment for debt. To the committee on the distresses of the people, &c.

On motion of Mr. Wilkins, the message of the Governor transmitted to the House on Saturday, relative to the Western Penitentiary, was referred to Wilkins, Keys, Ray.

Mr. Wilkins laid on the table a statement of the comparative value and product of manufacturing establishments of Pittsburgh in 1815, and 1819, and asked its reference to the committee on domestic manufactures; which was agreed to.

TUESDAY, Jan. 11.

REPORTS.

On motion of Mr. Wilkins, an item, relative to the erection of a new county out of parts of Washington, Fayette, Westmoreland, and Allegheny, was referred to Estep, Weaver, Noble, Middleswarth, A. Robeson, Calwell, Hindman.

Mr. Brackenridge offered a resolution:

Resolved, That the committee of ways and means be instructed to inquire into the expediency of laying a duty on the retailers of foreign wares, and merchandize, and that the committee have leave to report by bill or otherwise. Laid on the table.

Mr. Alexander offered a resolution:

Resolved, That the committee on the Judiciary system be instructed to enquire into the expediency of passing a law, placing the Recorders of the city of Philadelphia, the city of Lancaster and the city of Pittsburgh, on an equal footing as to salary according to their services, and to enquire whether it be expedient to pay their salaries out of the Treasury of the Commonwealth, Laid on the table.

THE INQUIRY.

January 6—Mr. Richard Bache was called as a witness on behalf of the petitioners, and sworn; but he did not give his testimony. The afternoon was taken up in discussion, respecting the nature of the testimony that would be received by the committee.

January 7.—A letter from Governor Findlay to the committee announced Mr. Samuel Douglass and Mr. Amos Ellmaker as his counsel. The counsel for the petitioners resisted the admission of counsel on behalf of the Governor, as novel & unprecedented. Mr. Douglass appeared and was admitted as counsel for the Governor.

January 8.—This afternoon was consumed in the discussion of the evidence that would be received. The counsel for the petitioners offered the Journal of the House of Representatives in evidence but it was determined (4 to 3) not to be admissible, John Fox was sworn, and did not get through with his testimony at 10 at night, when the committee adjourned.

January 10.—The examination of Samuel Fox was concluded.

January 11.—On reading over the testimony of S. Fox, last night as taken by the clerks, there was a disagreement on some points, which made another cross examination necessary. This consumed the afternoon. At night Richard Bache was examined in part.

January 12.—The examination of R. Bache concluded, and that of John Lisle proceeded in.

Mr. Wilkins (of the committee) brought into view a letter, published in the Democratic Press of January 10, reflecting on the committee, and gave notice that if Mr. Binns did not disavow it, he should move for his (Binns's) dismissal. Mr. Binns is to give in his answer this day (13th.)

The following is the publication alluded to by Mr. W.—

Extract of a letter to a gentleman in Philadelphia.

"HARRISBURG, Jan. 7, 1820.

"I have just made my escape from the Legislative Hall. I have seen the Committee of Inquiry in session, and have heard a good deal of talk before them, and as I passed from groupe to groupe in the room. There were various opinions on divers subjects, but I hear but one opinion of a majority of the Committee. All hands, or rather all tongues agree that they are the stedfast adherents of the Governor. You might as well hope to wash a Negro white, as to blacken the Governor in their eyes. I don't care a pin for their opinions, if they will but let us have the facts.—Give us but fair play with the witnesses, and let all be published, and I care not if the Committee conclude their report with a resolution, that Wm. Findlay, as Governor of Pennsylvania, deserves the thanks and gratitude of his country, and a re-election for the pure, wise and dignified manner in which he has discharged the duties of his office."

RICHMOND, VA. Dec. 18.

MR. BLACKBURN'S REPORT.

It gives us much gratification to lay before our readers the interesting Report of General Blackburn, upon the western communication generally, and the navigation of the Ohio in particular. In the zeal for that communication, we do not yield even to him. It is one of the greatest works in which Virginia can be interested, & our commissioner has contrived to place it in such new lights as to make it more and more attractive. His manner of treating it is moreover unique. Scarcely an ear ever heard gen. B. speak, without being chained to his lips. The same pungency of style is transfused into the Report now before us.

The commissioners, in their joint report, make no estimate of the whole expense; but advise each of their four states to appropriate ten thousand dollars, to remove the greatest obstructions. They say that at the Great Falls, a canal and locks is the only mode of giving passage to vessels of six feet water at all seasons of the year. They prefer the canal to be made on the Kentucky side. That side is estimated to cost only about three hundred and eighty thousand dollars—whereas, the one on the Indiana side is set down at about one million one hundred thousand dollars.

Extract of a letter from a gentlemen attached to the Yellow Stone expedition, to his friend in this place, dated,

FORT MISSOURI,
Council Bluffs, Nov. 19 5

DEAR——,

I am at last favoured with an opportunity of giving you a short description of the vast tract of wilderness country, by which I am surrounded. This fort is situated eight hundred miles above the mouth of the Missouri, and one mile above the place called the Council Bluffs, where Lewis and Clark held a general council with all the Indians, in this quarter of the world. It is a bluff of about 100 feet higher than the surface of the water, and perpendicular on the side adjoining the river, which flows at its base; but it gradually descends to the distance of three fourths of a mile on all the other sides. The country is a prairie for the distance of several hundred miles back but timbered above and below, which renders it the most beautiful spot I have ever seen for a fort; the scarcity of wood only prevents it from being the first place in the western country. The fort that is now built is only temporary; but the next year there will be one built of brick on the top of the bluff.

This country is entirely prairie, except a small grove on the bank of the river, but after you get two or three miles back it is all prairie until you arrive near some other water course. I have travelled for twenty or thirty miles without finding a bush of wood or drop of water. I have visited several nations of Indians in this neighbourhood, and remained with them some time. I will mention some of their most singular manners, from which you can draw some idea of their character. When I arrived at the Mohawk village it was three o'clock in the evening; I was carried to the Chief's lodge, where they soon prepared something to eat, which I was glad to see, for I had not eat for two days; but when it was set before me, it proved to be the flesh of a dog, at the first sight of which I was disgusted, but seeing the Interpreter eat of it, I was induced to taste it, & found it so palatable that I eat a hearty supper. During this evening I eat seventeen times, and next day twenty three; for every Chief gives you a feast, and nothing will be considered so great an affront as to refuse.

We have arrived at a very cold climate—it is in the 42d degree of north latitude, and the immense body of open land makes it three degrees colder. I expect to ascend the Missouri, next year, several hundred miles higher, but I do not think the troops will ever reach the Yellow Stone. All the Indians have become quite friendly.—Ken. Herald.

The Times.—The dry weather during the latter part of the last summer and fall, has served to augment in a great degree, the pecuniary difficulties with which the people of this place have to contend. Most of our merchants & traders are pressed for money to pay for goods which were shipped at New Orleans some six or eight months since, are now lying on the river below, and cannot be brought into market, until the waters becomes sufficiently high to admit of the ascent of steam boats; and of this, we have but little prospect, until some time in February or March next.

We are happy, however, to believe, that Louisville will be among the first towns in the western country, to extricate herself from the embarrassments occasioned by our late deplorable system of banking and the great changes which have taking place in the commercial relations of the world. Her citizens are industrious and enterprising, and there cannot be a doubt, but as soon as the spring flood descends from the mountains our shores will again be the theatre of an active, efficient and alleviation commerce. Louis. Pub. Ad.

Steam Boat Arrival.—On Friday last, the Steam Boat Henderson arrived at Shippingport from New Orleans, being the first arrival during the last 4 months. The Henderson is laden with sheet copper.

St. Domingo.—Accounts from the Island of St. Domingo of a late date, are received at Norfolk which state, that the understanding between the two chiefs, Christophe and Boyer, has become so friendly that an intercourse with neutral vessels may be carried on between their respective ports without molestation; i. e. a vessel from the U. States may touch at any port within the dominions of Christophe, enter, sell her cargo in whole or part, and clear for any port within the dominions of Boyer—and vice versa, without molestation.

LONDON, Nov. 14.

An interesting case, in substance as follows is shortly to come on before the preliminary court at Amsterdam: Louis Bonaparte, while he was king of Holland, had purchased the magnificent seat of Mr. Hope, the banker of Harlem. Being obliged to quite his throne, he could not enjoy this private property. The present king of the Netherlands, at his enterance into the kingdom, took possession of the palace of Mr. Hope as being a demesne of the crown. On the first remonstrance of Louis Bonaparte, the sovereign, showed a desire to make an amicable arrangement, and offered to the ancient possessor, first 200,000 florins, and afterwards 300,000. Though the latter sum was pretty nearly the value of the estate, Louis refused it, as insufficient. The ex king then caused a consultation to be held by some distinguished lawyers—the majority of whom decided in favor of their sovereign; the minority, consisting of three members, decided in favor of the ex-king. This affair is going to be brought before the tribunal of the first instance at Amsterdam. Louis Bonaparte has chosen for his counsel, Dr. Mayer, one of the first lawyers in the Netherlands, and the author of some excellent works. The question to be proved before the tribunal will be, whether Louis Bonaparte paid for this palace out of his own private fortune—and whether, in 1813, at the time of the installation of his majesty, he was still in possession of this estate, or whether the imperial administration which has succeeded him had not appropriated it and united it with the demesne, of the crown? In the first place, the palace would be the private property of Louis Bonaparte, in the second, the king would owe nothing to the former possesor.

NOVEMBER 21.

The Tea Trade—A small investment, usually of silver, broad cloth, Worcester china and other articles, of less than a million and a half per annum, puts in employ the finest ships in our mercantile marine at the largest freights—makes the largest return of profits known in trade, for a long series of years, to a great company; and to a host of dealers—and affords the largest revenue from any article of our consumption, our own growth and manufacture of malt accepted. A large part, and a long continuance of these profits and advantages, have been secured by the steady conduct of the East India company, defended by their charter from competition in their purchase of tea from the Chinese. An investment or purchase of less than 1,500,000*l* has ordinarily sold to the consumer in Great Britain and Ireland, for 9 or 10,000,0000 producing for the employment of our shipping and the profit of the East India company, the revenue and all the dealers and venders of tea, the great surplus amount of 7,000,000 to 8,000,000*l*. per annum. The whole quantity of tea sold for our consumption does not exceed 25,000,000 lbs. a year If tea be a wholesome, desireable, and useful habit of daily beverage & refreshments for all the people, 150,000,000 lbs. would be requisite for their general and constant use, as bread, beer, meat or water. What quantity of tea have our ingenious imitators of these leaves of China annually supplied, to make up, in part, the deficiency of the importation of the East India company? The annual sales at the India house seem to be very inadequate to the consumption of an article, of which it was said in the house of commons in the last sessions "the poor make half the substance!" If the poor of these realms make use of the tea of China as well as the rich, the consumption, at only 7 lbs. a year for each, of only 10,000,000 tea drinkers, (or half the whole population) would be 70,000,000 lbs. instead of 25,000,000 lbs. the whole quantity furnished us by the East India company from China. So that of the tea confined in England 45,000,000 lbs are of domestic growth and manufacture, and 25,000,000 imported.

CHARITY.

Ten thousand charities exist; but the best is that which consists in a sober care for the virtue as well as the wants of men. That gives just enough to encourage industry. That supplies a whole life, by being ready at the time of need; and that encourages and respects economy, when the happiness of life requires it.—This charity blows no trumpet, rings no bells, and forms no association but for its instant occasions. The warm blood of life flows. All rise to their full duty, and the poor are caught before they fall.

Rosanna Winright,

BEGS leave to inform the inhabitants of Pittsburgh, generally, that in compliance with the requests of a considerable number of her friends, she has set apart a private room, in which she proposes to teach a respectable class of YOUNG LADIES the art of

MANTUA MAKING.

She flatters herself from the knowledge she has of the business, and the strict attention that will be paid, general satisfaction will be given to those who may please to patronize her.

Mr. WINRIGHT will also attend to giving private lessons, in Reading, Writing, English Grammar, &c. to those who may require it.

Those who feel disposed to attend are respectfully invited to call on or before the 7th day of February next, (at which time the school will be opened) and learn the terms on which they may be instructed.

January 18

☞ A few persons from a distance who wish to attend, can be accommodated with boarding &c. on reasonable terms.

Notice,

TO all whom it concerns, that we the subscribers gave our notes to GARRET GUEST, on the first day of November 1819; the first payable on the first day of February 1820, for four hundred dollars—the other, for three hundred dollars, due in twelve months from the 1st November, 1819, for which we have received no value. We therefore caution all persons not to receive the said Notes on our credit, as we will not pay them unless compelled by law.

Henry Miller & Co.

HAVE the pleasure of announcing to their friends and the public generally, that they have again opened their establishment for manufacturing Postly's Patent COOKING STOVES at their old stand, in Second street, two doors rom Wood street, where all orders will be attended to.

December 21,

Charles Postly's Patent

COOKING STOVE

OR PORTABLE KITCHENS.

MANUFACTURED and sold by HENRY MILLER & Co in 2d street, two doors from the corner of Wood streets, Pittsburgh.

This Stove with fixtures complete, compri ses every necessary article of apparat us for an extensive cooking establishment.

The different sizes are calculated to do the cooking for small or large families, public houses and Steam-boats, and are so extremely simple in their construction as to be managed with ease by a child, twelve or fourteen years of age.

With this Stove may be cooked, by baking, roasting, boiling and by steam, a sufficiency of meats, fish, fowls and vegetables, to make a dinner for from 5 to 100 persons, while at the same time may be baked from 1 to 8 loaves of bread.

A wooden vessel containing from twenty to fifty gallons of water, can also be kept boiling, for the purposes of washing, &c. All these are done simultaneously and with one small fire.

The circumstance of these Stoves having got into very general use at the eastward, within 2 or 3 years past, particularly in the cities of New-York and Baltimore, with the rapid sale and general approbation they have met with since their first introduction last winter, west of the mountains, are sufficient testimonials of their utility and advantage.

The subscribers having purchased of the patentee the right for making and vending said Stoves in the western country, are ready to execute with punctuality and despatch, all orders at his Manufactory, as above, where also may be had, Cast and Sheet Iron Stoves, suitable for Parlours, Offices, Stores & Bed-rooms, to which boilers may be attached if wanted.

The proprietors to accommodate persons residing in different parts of the country, have opened a store in Main street, Cincinnati, and also appointed agents, as follows—Luther Stephens & Co. Lexington, Ken. Samuel January, Sen. & Co. Maysville, Ken. J. B. Bowles, Louisville, K. Joseph Litton, Nashville, Tenn. James Cochran, Madison, Indiana. Neal & Liggett, St. Louis.

TOWN OF AMERICA.

THE undersigned, owner of a large number o squares, half squares, and lots in the above town, and of about five hundred acres of land adjoining to it, proposes to sell to actual settlers, any number of lots, not exceeding one hundred; and several out lots of twenty acres each, on terms highly calculated to promote the interest of the purchasers. He is also authorized to sell on liberal terms and in small tracts, seven thousand acres of excellent land, lying about the Town and in its immediate neighborhood.

This town is situated in the fork of the Ohio and Mississippi, on the bank of the former, and on the first piece of high ground above their junction.

No person of any reflection has ever looked upon a map of North America without being struck with the mighty confluence of water which is exhibited at the junction of the Ohio and Mississippi: and the natural sentiment that a great city must grow up at that point has only been checked by the apprehension that the place was annually inundated. The apprehension was incorrect. The town scite and the back country are free from inundation, and both are now settled and are constantly increasing in population. The town has been selected for the seat of Justice for the county of Alexander in which it is situated, and both the county and circuit courts are, and will be held there The neighboring country is well settled, not by a detached population, but by connected settlements spreading into the interior of the state of Illinois.

The mind is therefore free to expatiate upon the advantages of this situation, and the undersigned can leave it to any man of sense and candor to say whether any point upon our continent has ever presented a fairer prospect of a greater inland commercial city?

Situated on the first high ground above the confluence of the noblest streams in America—at a point from which large steam boats can at all times descend to New Orleans—with a rich back country to support it—and a numerous population now covering the adjacent country, and it is difficult to assign a reason why this town should not in a few years rank with the first in America.

Besides its water communications it may reasonably count upon the advantage of seeing pass through it the great road which will be required to facilitate the intercourse between the Upper and the Lower Mississippi. Authentic information authorizes the assertion that the country south of the Ohio is entirely practicable for a road, which can be opened across the west ends of Kentucky and Tennessee through the late Chickasaw purchase and lead to New Orleans over a direct route parallel to the course of the Mississippi.

The undersigned will be upon the spot to sell to actual settlers during the balance of the winter and spring months. He prefers to sell upon the spot, when purchasers can see with their own eyes the advantages of the situation, and therefore will be present at a time when the revival of commerce upon the river and the passing of steam boats will make it convenient for all those to visit the place and examine it for themselves who may wish to become interested in it.

He is also authorised to say that the proprietors, or a part of them, will sell at auction, on the ground, on the third Monday in April next, being the first day of the Circuit court, ONE HUNDRED LOTS; one third of the purchase money to be paid in hand, one third in six, and one in twelve months, to raise a fund for improving the place, to which the whole proceeds of the 100 lots will be applied.
